

River Reflections Albury 2024

Improving wetlands on private property
Deborah Nias

The Murray Darling Wetlands Working Group Ltd. acknowledges the Traditional Custodians of the land we work, live and learn on and pays its respects and gratitude to Elders past, present and future.

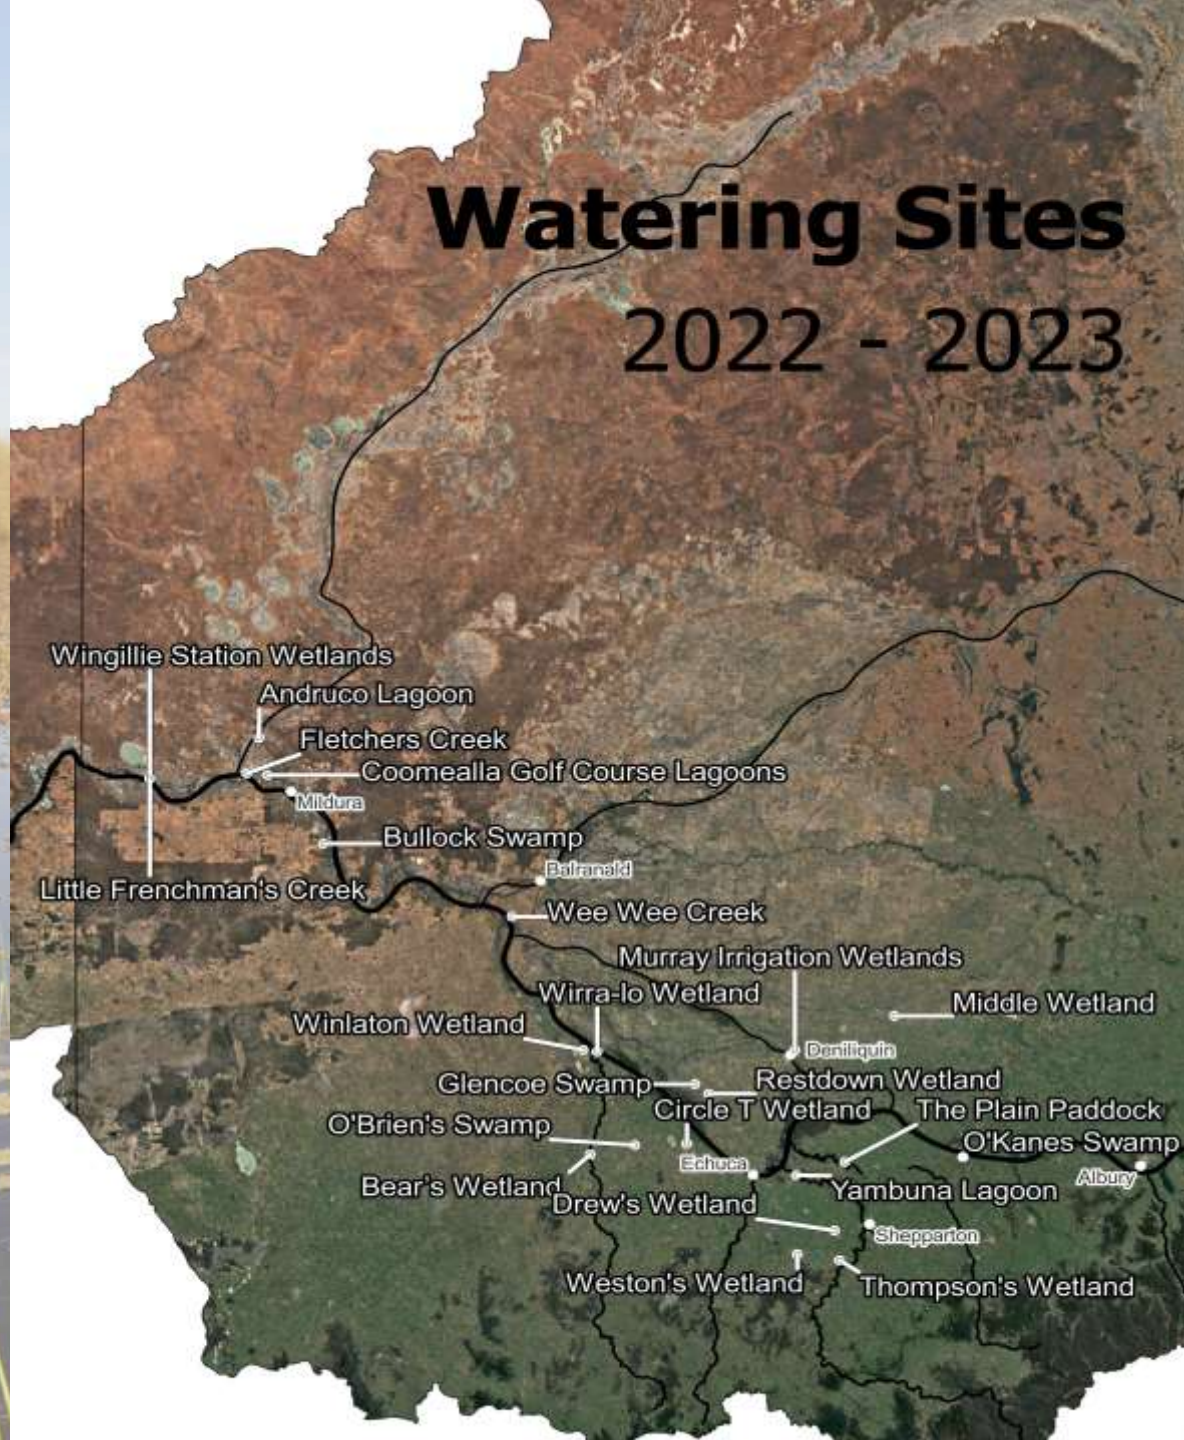

Wetland restoration and management by working with landholders, communities, science, business and government

Focus on private wetlands

Shared elements:

- Vision
- Land and water
- Equipment and funds
- Knowledge, experience and skills

OFFICIAL

OFFICIAL

“Working with organisations like the MDWWG, we are able to develop the technical skill base of our work teams to be able to bring together science and tradition for a better approach to the sustainable land in this region and the country.”

OFFICIAL

Australian Government

Commonwealth Environmental Water Office

OFFICIAL

“The project has given us a lot of joy over the years and continues to reward our business, bringing visitors from far and wide who learn about the importance of wetlands.”

Outcomes

- Co-management (sharing) overcomes barriers and promotes resilience.
- Biodiversity will be promoted and maintained by maximising the diversity of wetlands and flooding regimes within the landscape.
- Greater connection between people and wetlands.
- Strengthen and invest in relationships for resilient communities and resilient wetlands

